Adilabad Sringhaar Studio is a Tattoo studio that offers you authentic tattoos from the art of godna done by thoti tribe craftswomen.

The Thotti are a small group of tribal people who live in southeast India. Most have integrated into Indian society and become Hindus. Many now work as agricultural laborers. A smaller portion of the Thotti people still lives as a tribal people in the forests of Telangana. Thotti women were traditionally tattoo artists for the larger Gond tribes.

Thotti tribe has many motif and each motif has significance. In ancient times the tattoos were made by them to cover there bodies which now has become part of there parampara in which tattoo are made on women as she passes her life such as puberty, marriage and childbirth. The tattoo are yet valued for their powers of healing and due to its ritualistic significance it is yet passed on from generation to generation.

We provide authentic tattoos by artisans and it is done by the old traditional practice. Please take a look. They use all herbal materials for their tattooing. The methods used for tattooing are very eco-friendly and therapeutic (safe method - handpoking). They make the kajal which is used to first draw the design , from erandi ka tel (castor oil) which a completely natural product. Then after they make the design on the skin , they make the permanent tattoo by handpoking using a needle which is completely sanitized and hygienic.
